Tequila Agavales is presented in both Gold and Blanco. It is produced in four column stills for the purest flavor. Agavales is the perfect Tequila to use in margaritas or as a shooter. The best news about Agavales is the price. Tequila Agavales can be purchased at a price similar to the other “low-end” Tequilas. Compare our price to Juarez, Rio Grande, Montezuma or Giro Tequilas. Unlike these other Tequilas, Agavales is 100% agave not mixto. Used by most Mexican Restaurants, it has become the #2 selling tequila in Texas. Available in 50ml, 375ml, 750ml, Liter and 1.75L

AGAVALES PREMIUM

TEQUILA

Agavales has become one of the top national brands in America and overseas. It has always had fame of over delivering with a great price/value ratio. We have done this now with the most expensive tequilas available. We dare you to compare our Agavales Premium to any $50+ bottles of tequila. Our difference is that our product is truly craft. We hand-pick each agave and blend 50% from the highlands and 50% of the lowlands to ensure all the tequil region has to offer. Next we fire roast the agave the traditional method. This is much more expensive and time consuming but the result is an exceptional product. Our tequila is then fermented and distilled and never touches a diffuser that strips out the flavor. We take pride in every bottle and to stay true to our name, we over deliver in a big way.

AGAVALES

FLAVORED TEQUILA

MUNDO DE ORO

TEQUILA

Experience the magic that emanates from the earth and soaks up the culture, flavors and passions of Mexico's traditions.

We believe tequila is the most valuable and artistic commodity which is why we crafted Mundo de Oro, translated to World of Gold, with exquisite detail to each profile. We distinctively age our tequila in barrels that have been used with red and white wine to compliment the sweeter notes of agave and giving our tequilas very unique profiles. They are then carbon filtered and oxygenated to enhance the characteristics, flavor and notes and soften the harshness that can be found in many tequilas, resulting in an easy to sip, delicate tequila.

METEORO

MEZCAL

According to legend, a flash of light suddenly illuminated the sky of the Southern Sierra of Oaxaca. A roar was heard and people saw "little eyes of fire" falling from the Heavens. An old "Maestro Mezcalero" saw a small crater with a meteor lying inside had formed. He decided to use that crater and the red hot stone to cook his ripe agave hearts. And thus, he made the best Mezcal anyone had ever tasted. When people asked how he had done it, he simply replied "it fell from the sky." Meteorito is an artisanal Mezcal of the highest quality strictly using the traditional methods.

MEZCALERO

MEZCAL

The only way to keep this wonderful process going is by making it more widely available.

CUENTACUENTOS

MEZCAL

A truly impressive collection of mezcals from tiny distilleries, some south of Oaxaca city in the central valley, others in Sola de Vega in the rugged Sierra Sur. Many of the agaves are wild.

ANIMAS

MEZCAL

Artisanal distillation of fully mature agaves, focused on the rare wild agave cupreata, known as papalometl. Very few distillers source their cupreata in Oaxaca: it's usually found further north. Eber Villalobos has been in the mezcal trade for 11 years, and is using his knowledge to produce a genuinely excellent mezcal - no bells & whistles, just the real thing. Eber has worked in Silacoayoapam, up north in the mountainous Mizteca, where he sources his wild papalometl (agave cupreata), but has moved to a notably well-run distillery in Santiago Matatlan operated by Procoro Bautista. Meticulous tends to mean great product: doing everything exactly right. Textbook mezcal.

MEZCAL

Artisan mezcal from Oaxaca is a world-class spirit, and it comes from the last of the world's great spirit regions not yet dominated by huge commercial producers. Artisan mezcal is richer and more true to its material than its famous cousin tequila: this because artisan mezcal is distilled including the agave solids and without diluting the fermented distilling material with water (done with tequila to recover more alcohol). Los Nahuales (Los Danzantes in Mexico) is the brainchild of the Muñoz brothers producing authentic local products for their fabulous restaurants. Very very few spirits are so authentically hand-made by ancestral methods. These are extraordinary products.

MEXICAT RAICILLA

RAICILLA

Beautifully distilled single-batch artisanal Raicilla de Costa (from the coastal region of Jalisco state). Raicilla is a spirit made only in Jalisco state from agaves distilled in remote areas. Raicilla is a mezcal – but not on the label, due to Mexican regulations. Raicilleros uses at least nine kinds of agave, all of them wild, some with several differing local varieties. Raicilla is artisanal as it gets, going way back in time; its distillation was introduced in the 1600s from the Spanish colonies in the Philippines, which resulted in the common use of the primitive Filipino double-chamber clay still. Many raicillas are roasted in above-ground clay ovens instead of the fire pits of Oaxaca.

LAS PERLAS DE JALISCO

RAICILLA

Unusually well-made single-batch artisanal Raicilla de Costa (from the coastal region of Jalisco state). Raicilla is a spirit made only in Jalisco state, from agaves distilled in remote areas. Raicilla is a mezcal – but not on the label, due to Mexican regulations. Raicilleros uses at least nine kinds of agave, all of them wild, some with several differing local varieties. CHOYA UMESHU WINE

Umesu is a traditional Japanese liqueur made from ume fruit. A perfect balance between ume extract and alcohol is achieved by aging the whole fruit, with the stone still inside. The delicious tang comes from citric acid in the fruit, and the refreshing flavour stimulates the appetite. It also contains malic and succinic acids. Refresh yourself by enjoying a glass when feeling tired. The addition of alcohol to the fruit during production means that the ume flavour can be extracted not only from the flesh and skin but also from the stone. It is this process which gives CHOYA its unique fruity bouquet, with notes of almond and marzipan.
